Qosina Returns to COMPAMED 2025 with New Offerings for the European Market

Ronkonkoma, NY — November 7, 2025 — Qosina, a leading global supplier of OEM single-use components to the medical and pharmaceutical industries, will exhibit at COMPAMED 2025, November 17–20, 2025, in Düsseldorf, Germany. Representatives from across Qosina's global organization will be on-site to meet with customers, partners and industry professionals throughout the event.

At this year's show, Qosina will feature several product innovations, including high-flow check valves and tactile 4-way stopcocks, designed to deliver enhanced performance and reliability across a range of medical and bioprocessing applications. These products demonstrate Qosina's ongoing commitment to meeting regional customer needs while maintaining the company's hallmark standards of quality, performance and innovation.

"COMPAMED provides an unparalleled opportunity for us to engage directly with our European customers," said Scott Herskovitz, President of Qosina. "We're excited to showcase our expanding product range and highlight how Qosina supports medical device manufacturers with high-quality, ready-to-ship components and responsive customer service."

Attendees can visit Qosina at Stand 8AK10 to see the company's latest components firsthand, speak with product experts and discover how Qosina helps streamline development from prototype to production.
